JavaScript Variables

DIY - 17

edureka!

Problem Statement:

Develop a JavaScript code snippet that involves creating several variables. The task requires these variables to be assigned different data types or values. Then, use the `console.log` function to output their values in the browser's console, demonstrating how variables are stored and displayed in JavaScript.

The expected output is shown below: